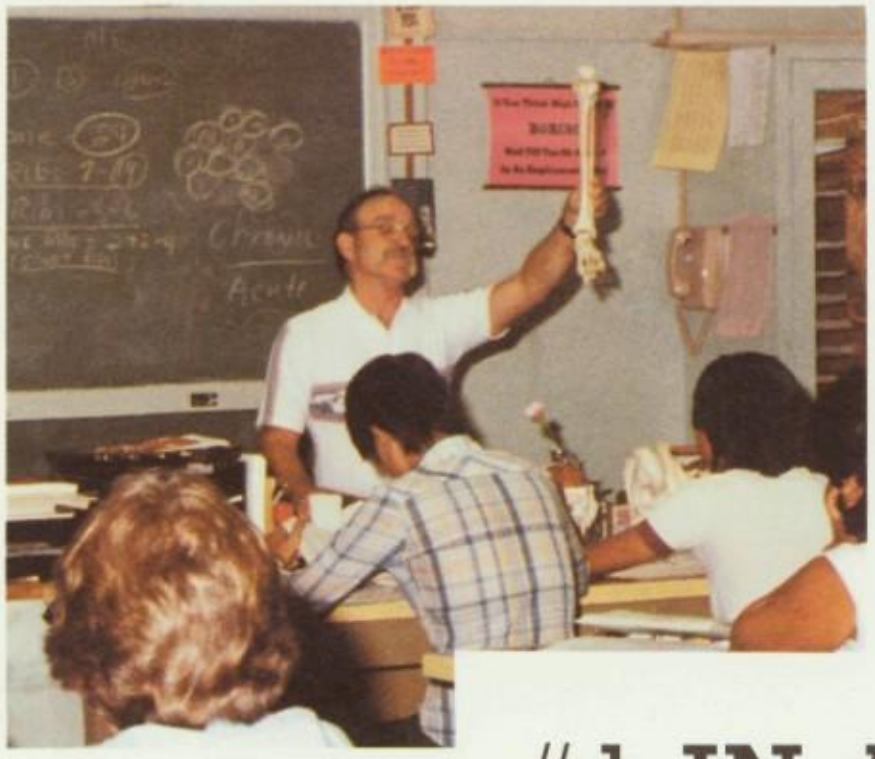
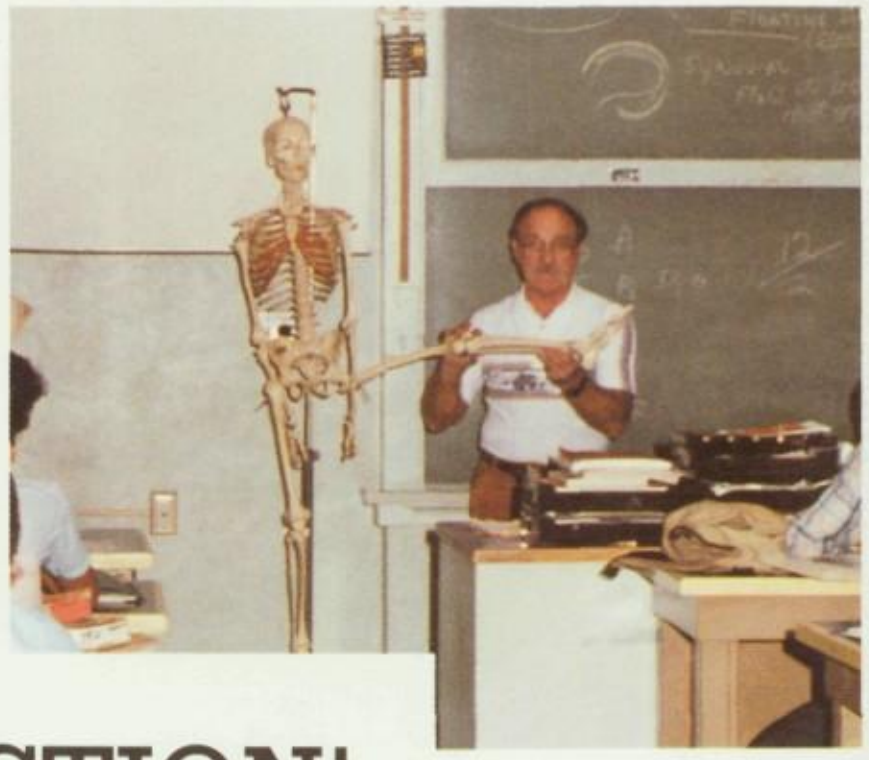
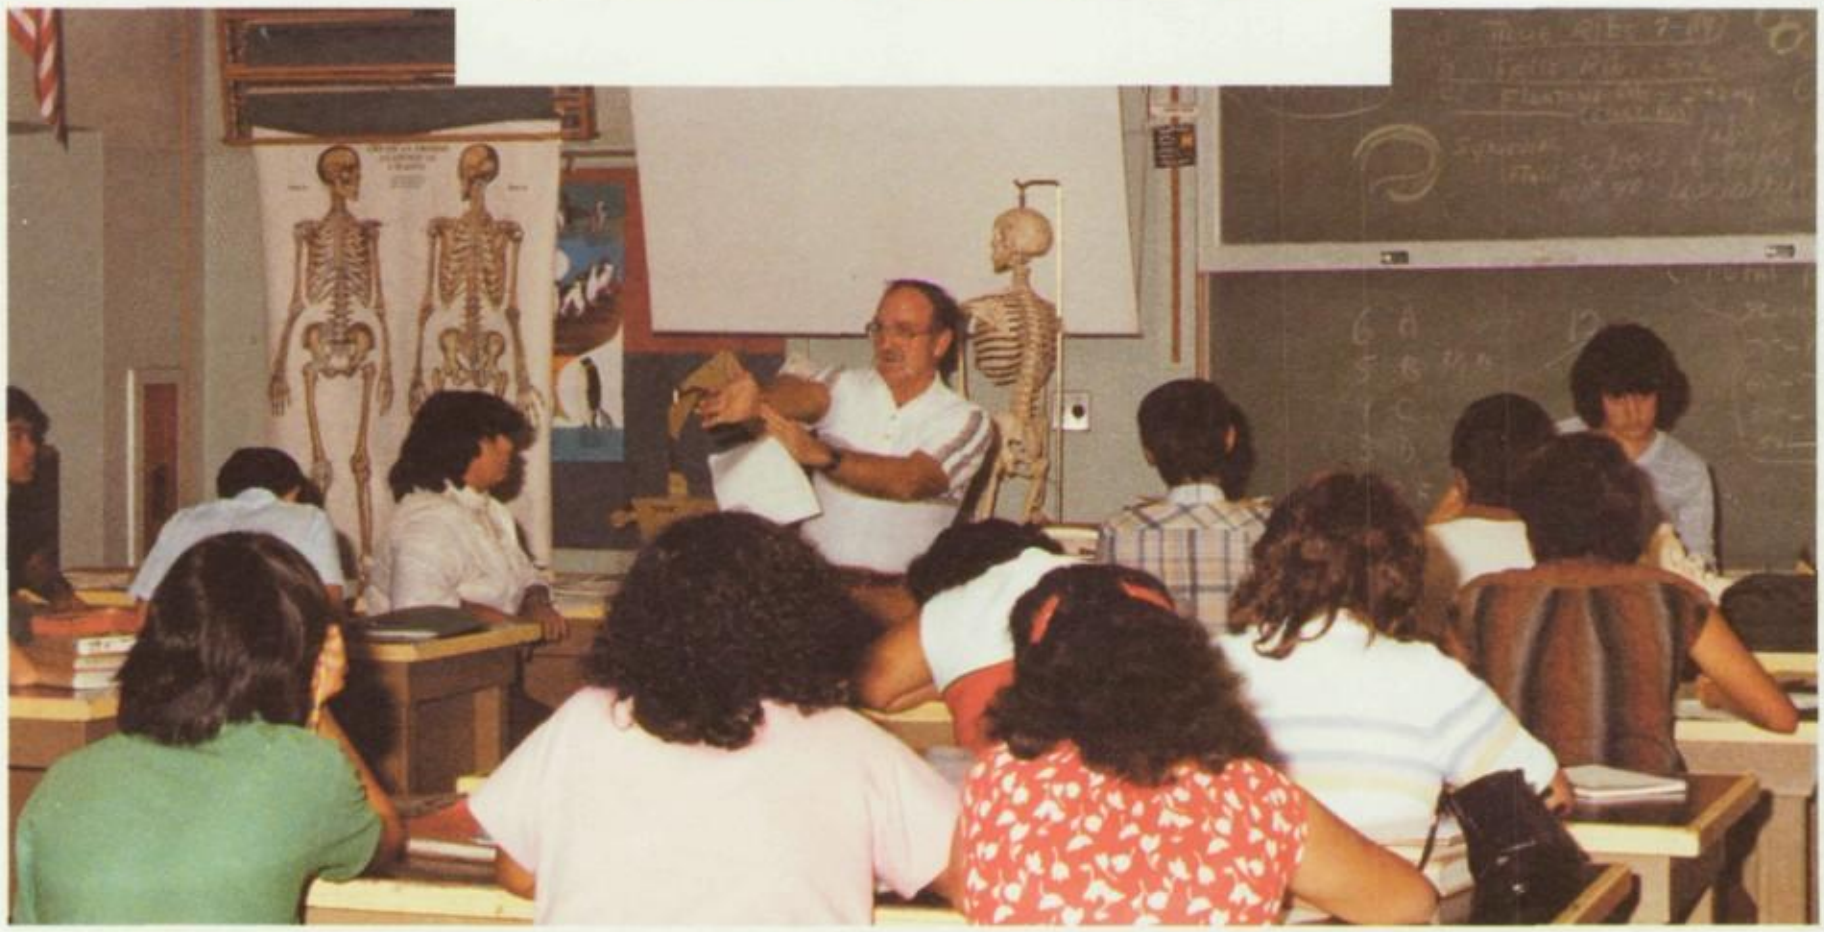
Dedication . . .





#1 IN ACTION!



In the 28 years that El Cajon Valley High School has been in existence, many things have come and gone. Thousands of students have graduated and followed their separate paths, some leading them back to their alma mater. The nation has seen seven different presidents and an era-shattering war. At E.C.V.H.S., however, one thing has remained constant. Generations of students have become familiar with, and learned to love the relentless spirit, enthusiasm, and vitality of Mr. Walter Gehrke. As a coach, Mr. Gehrke's inspiring personality led his Brave teams to victory. As a teacher, that same personality inspired many of his students to academic and personal success. Mr. Gehrke has always encouraged his students to "be positive and get involved", and his belief of achievement through hard work is echoed in one of his favorite bits of advice "keep up the good work and you will go far." Mr. Gehrke's spirit and optimism has made E.C.V.H.S. a better place in the last 28 years, and those who hold a stake in the school's well-being hope that the enthusiasm will be around for at least a few more years.

. . . Mr. Walter Gehrke

Here in the United States most of us seldom realize the fortunate circumstances under which we live and we often take our freedom for granted. We have been thoroughly blessed with wealth, prosperity, and especially with freedom, the freedom to do what we want, when we want. It is this freedom that is most symbolic of the spirit of America.

In this special year, the United States will exemplify its spirit by striving for excellence in the 1984 Olympic games. Later in the year, by voting for their favorite presidential candidates, Americans will also exhibit their patriotic spirit.

On a more local level, the proud students attending E.C.V.H.S. exhibit their Braves' spirit by displaying appreciation of our athletic teams, wearing red on Friday, and working hard in classes. Thus both the United States and E.C.V.H.S. can proudly be considered "the land of the free and the home of the Brave."

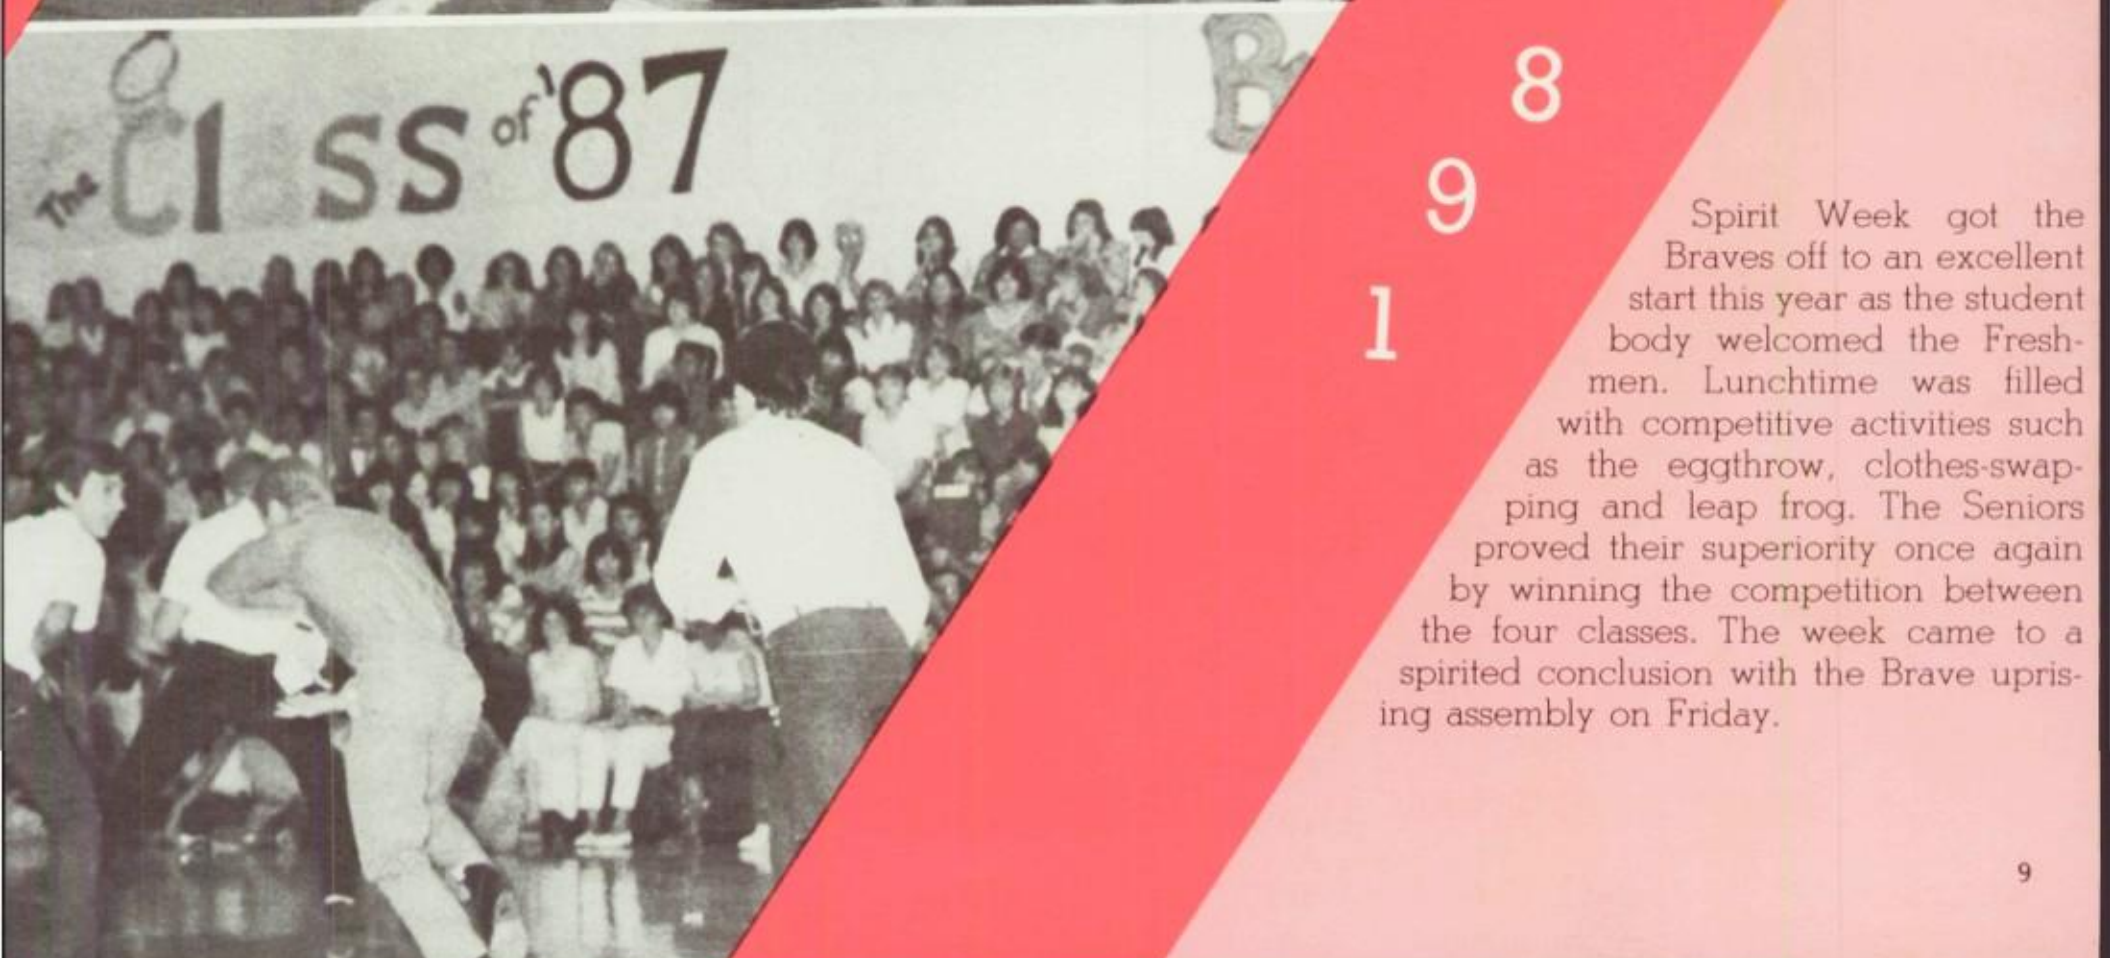
Spirit Week 1984



Spirit Week got the Braves off to an excellent start this year as the student body welcomed the Freshmen. Lunchtime was filled with competitive activities such as the eggthrow, clothes-swapping and leap frog. The Seniors proved their superiority once again by winning the competition between the four classes. The week came to a spirited conclusion with the Brave uprising assembly on Friday.

Isn't this fun?

Yea Team!

The spirit and pageantry of high school life characterized this year's Football Carnival, the first event of the year for El Cajon Valley High. The Marching Band, Specialty Corps, Football team, and cheering section provided the red and blue of the Braves that stood out among the sea of colors at the 1983 Football Carnival.

This year's Legend was produced by a dedicated and spirited group of people. Within a single year these students wrestled with a stubborn budget, made important decisions, raced against time, and were still able to catch all the memories of ECVHS. On a couple of occasions, Legenders even provided morning entertainment by singing a catchy song up and down the halls, taking full advantage of the "freedom to exhaust themselves"! But the sleepless nights were well worth it, for now you hold your own personal history book of the exciting year of 1983-1984 at El Cajon Valley High School.

Special

The Special Education program at E.C.V.H.S. teaches the students to be more independent. The classes offered in this program are language development, physical education, independent living skills, and pre-vocational skills. With the guidance of excellent teachers and aides, these activities are designed to make the students self-sufficient members of the society.

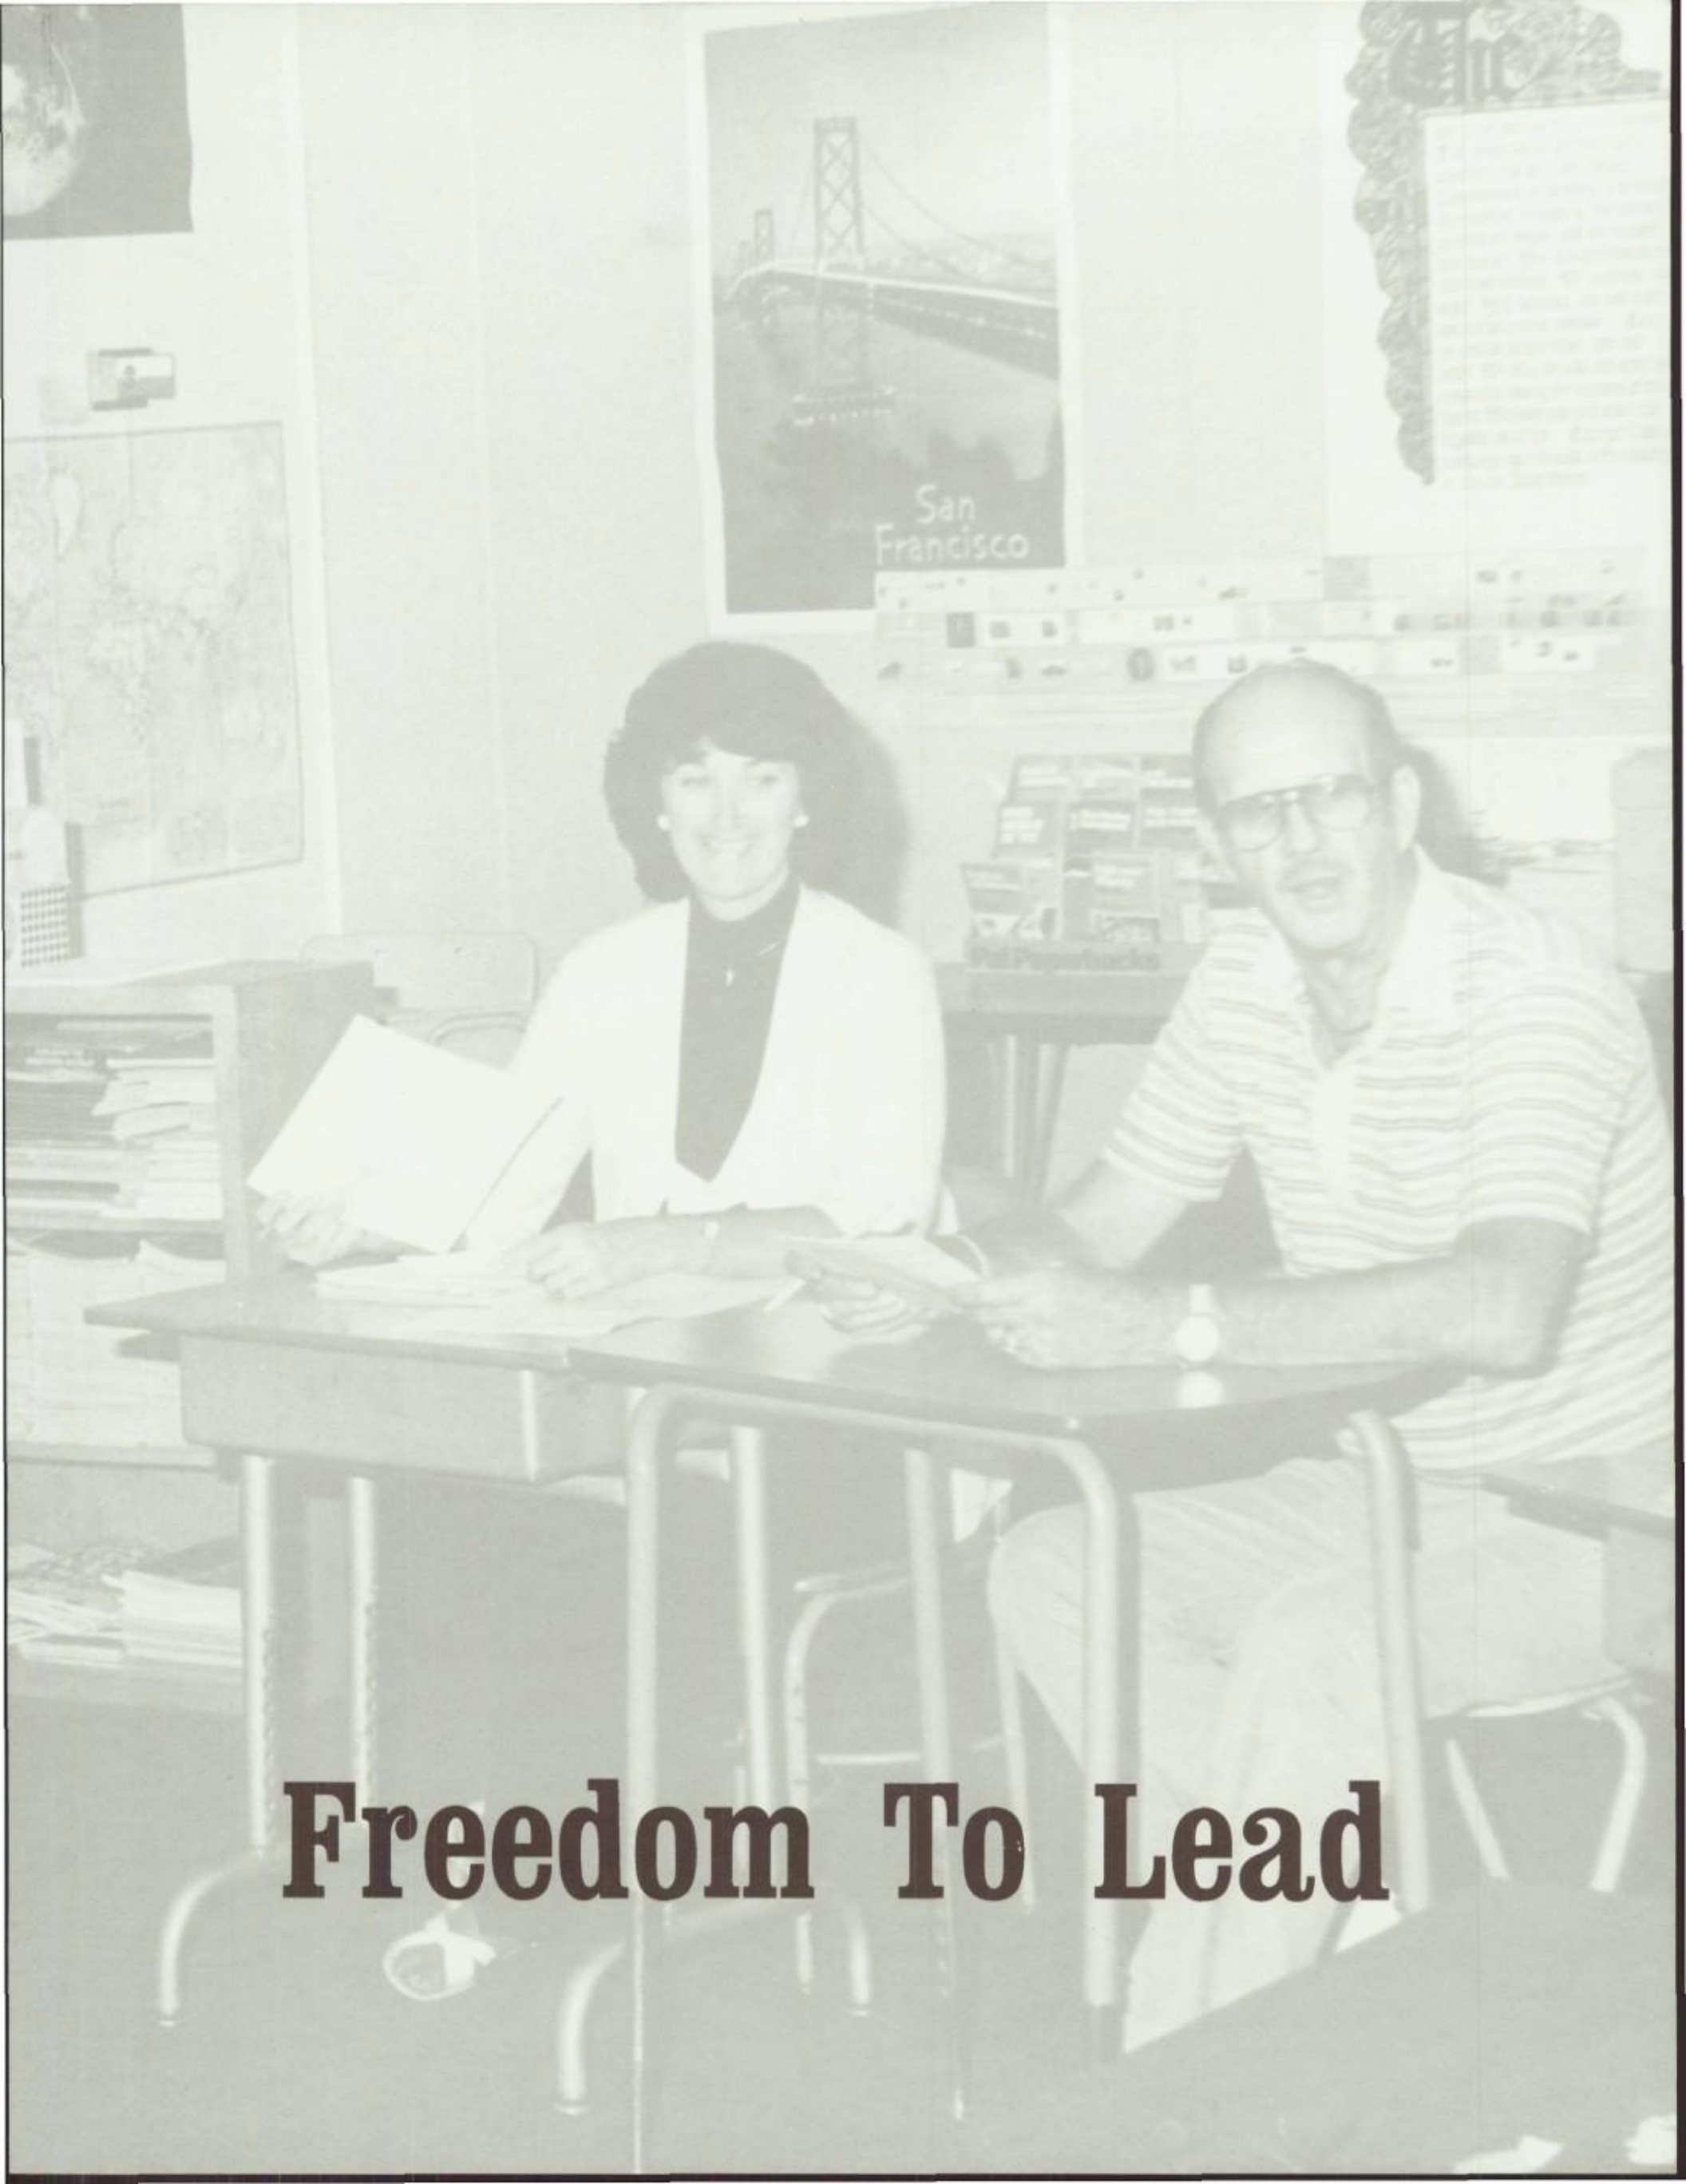
FACULTY



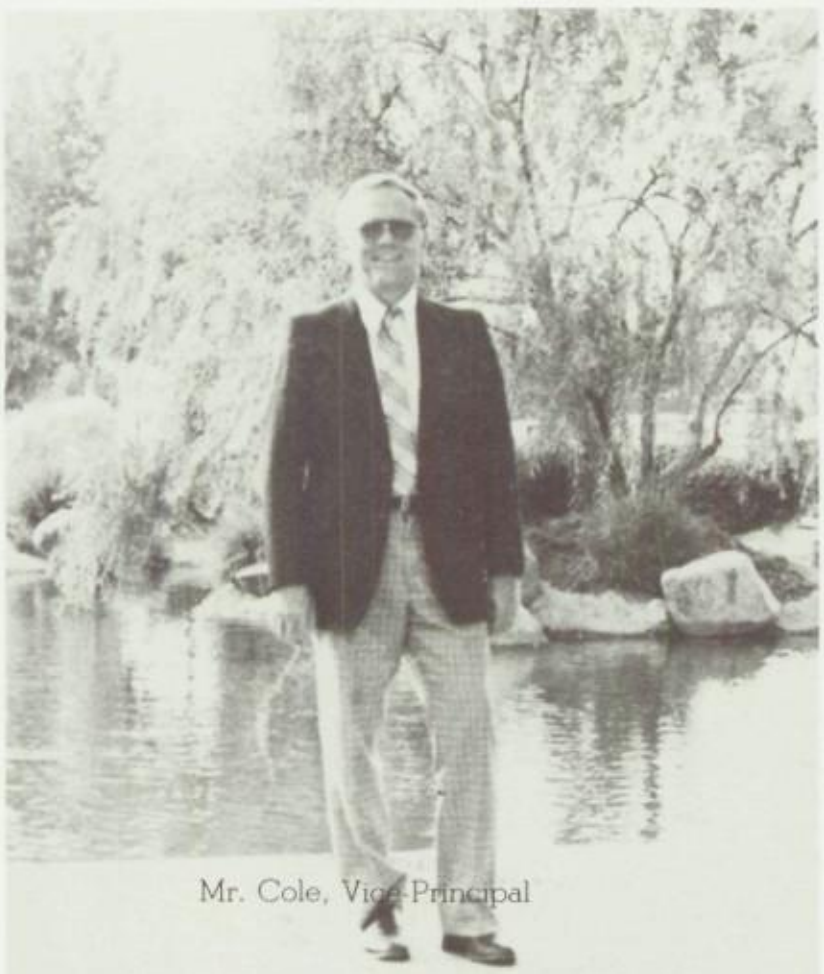
Freedom To Lead

In Our Administration

Mr. Pegas-Principal

We Trust

Mr. Amador, Vice-Principal



Mr. Cole, Vice-Principal

"El Cajon Valley is the greatest place on earth to be; every place else is just O.K.!", was Mr. Art Pegas' philosophy this year. As principal, he was confronted with budgetary restrictions and a diminished staff but it was the administration's task to do the job with available resources. "We've had to learn to work smarter," stated Mr. Pegas the principal, and Mr. Cole and Mr. Amador, the Vice-Principals did just that to keep E.C.V.H.S. running smoothly.

Counselors At Play

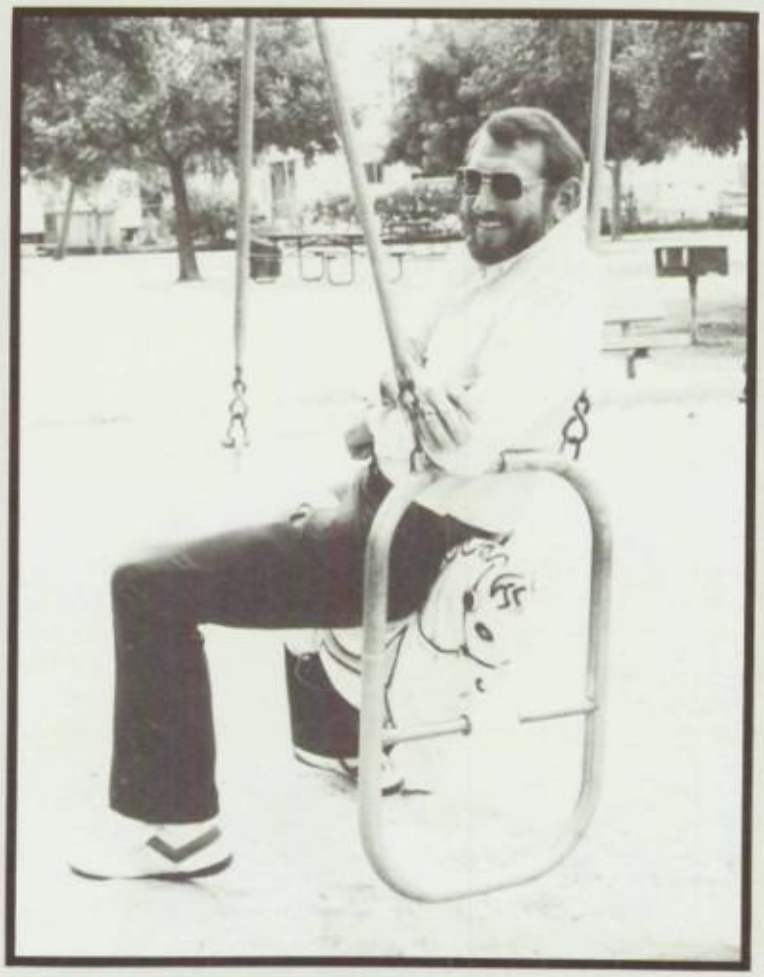
Front Row: Mrs. Donna Richards-A-Go. Middle Row: Mr. Don Halte-Bilingual Counselor, Mr. Ed Foster-Gp-O, Mr. Jess Castro-P-Z. Back Row: Mr. Herb Gross-Senior Counselor.

Donna horsing around?!?

Herbie and Jessie swing into action!!!

"No Way??? We don't want to go back to WORK!!!"

Eddie having a "whee" good time?*?!



"Hey Herbie look at me!"

Our counselors are normally business-like people who sit in closed-door conferences or plan schedules and generally help solve the problems that confront students. This year we decided to portray a different side of their personalities. On these pages we present "Counselors at Play!"

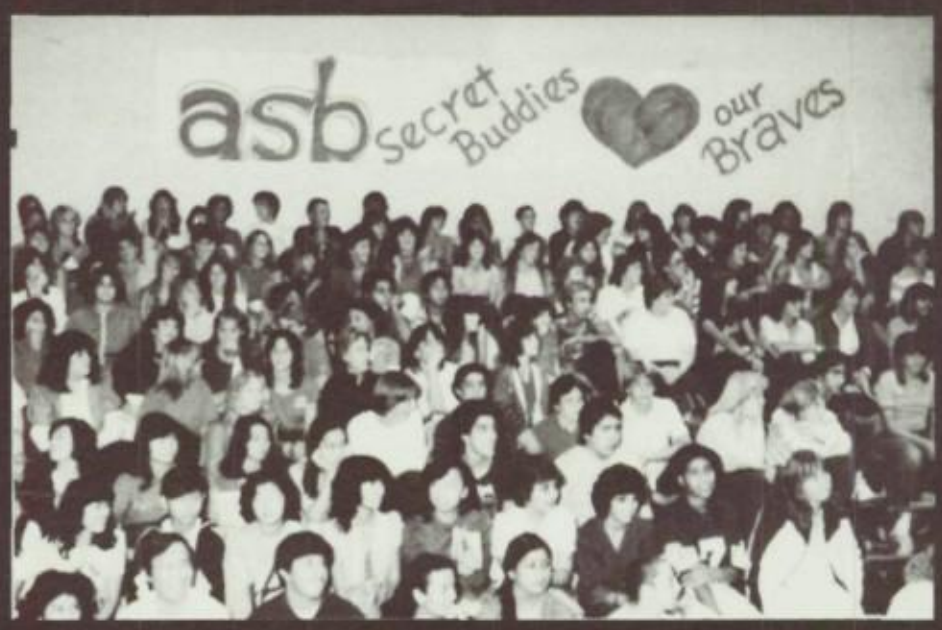
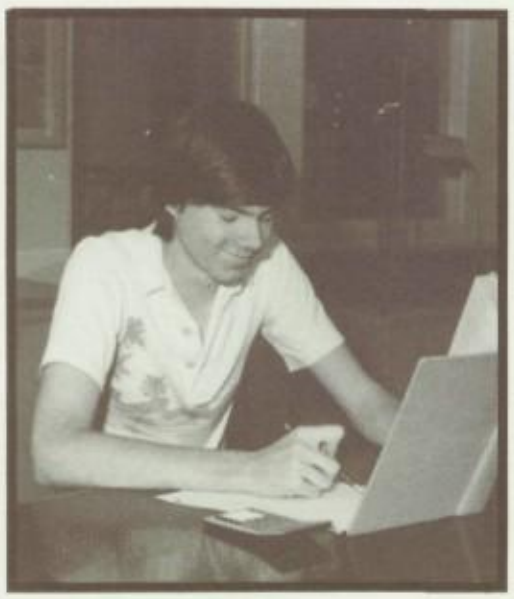
S ASSEMBLIES ASSEMBLIES ASSEMB

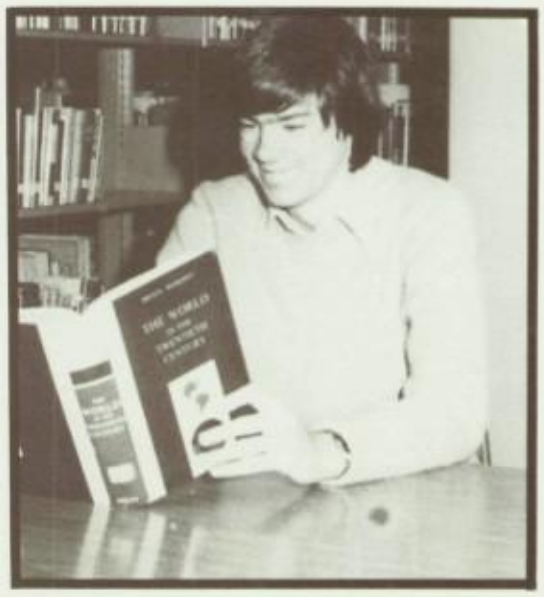


The Best In Their Field

Quy Nguyen - Foreign Language: Quy, a junior, is an incredibly talented and versatile student of foreign language. Coming to the United States from Vietnam at age 7, Quy quickly picked up English, then proceeded to learn Spanish and French. She has already completed four years of Spanish and three years of French. With this ability in foreign languages and many other subjects, Quy's future is limitless.



Chris Stein - Math: Chris was selected as the outstanding math student by a unanimous vote of the math department faculty. He has been the top student in every math class since his freshman year. Chris has also been the leader of the math team for the past year. As a Senior, Chris is taking Calculus, a college level math course.



Chris Stein - Social Science: Chris is an asset to the Social Science classroom in the ideas that he brings to discussions. His written work also reflects his perception and his ability to see what is important in a particular issue. Chris is well-informed and inquisitive, two of the most important attributes for those studying historical and political problems.

Vince Ancona - Science: Vince is one of the brightest and most innovative students the science department has ever had. Taking every science course available to him in his four years at ECVHS, Vince's inquisitiveness and dedicated work have brought him a background of knowledge sure to be extremely beneficial in his future.

Cathy McEvilly - Performing Arts: As an actress, Cathy is extremely versatile, doing both dramas and musicals. Her most important role in the drama department, however, is running the show as a stage manager. Cathy has been an integral member of the performing arts department for the past two years.

Katarzyna Korcyka - English As A Second Language: Kathy will be an honor grad even though she has been studying English less than two years. President of the multi-cultural club, Kathy is one of the most enthusiastic students on campus, always maintaining a deep concern for her fellow students.

Charles Jarman-English: Charles has demonstrated a consistently superior level of comprehension of literature and of outstanding writing style. Creativity and compassion are also exhibited in his reliably excellent work.

Joyce Belkonen-Girls' P.E.: Joyce, a Junior, is one of our finest physical education students. She takes as many activities as possible and is successful in all.

Sheryl Truehart-Home Economics: Sheryl is always a pleasant, dedicated student who willingly helps others and extends herself beyond all requirements. She is a smiling, happy addition to Home Ec. classes.

Rick Napier-Industrial Arts: Rick has taken a number of Industrial Ed. courses and done well. He is also the type of person that is willing to help others if they need help. In general he's a good guy to have around.

"He has achieved success who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best he had."

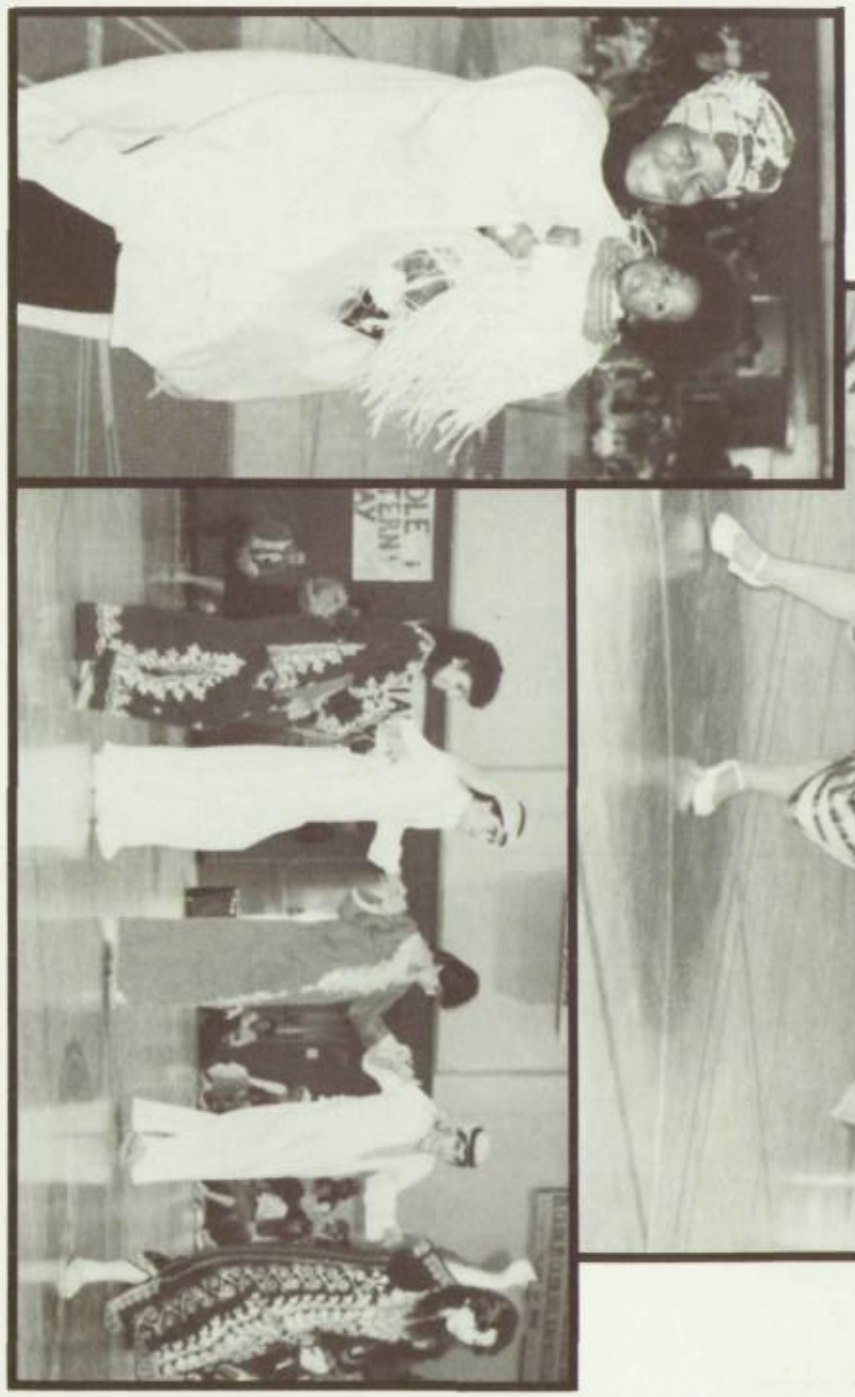
Bessie Anderson

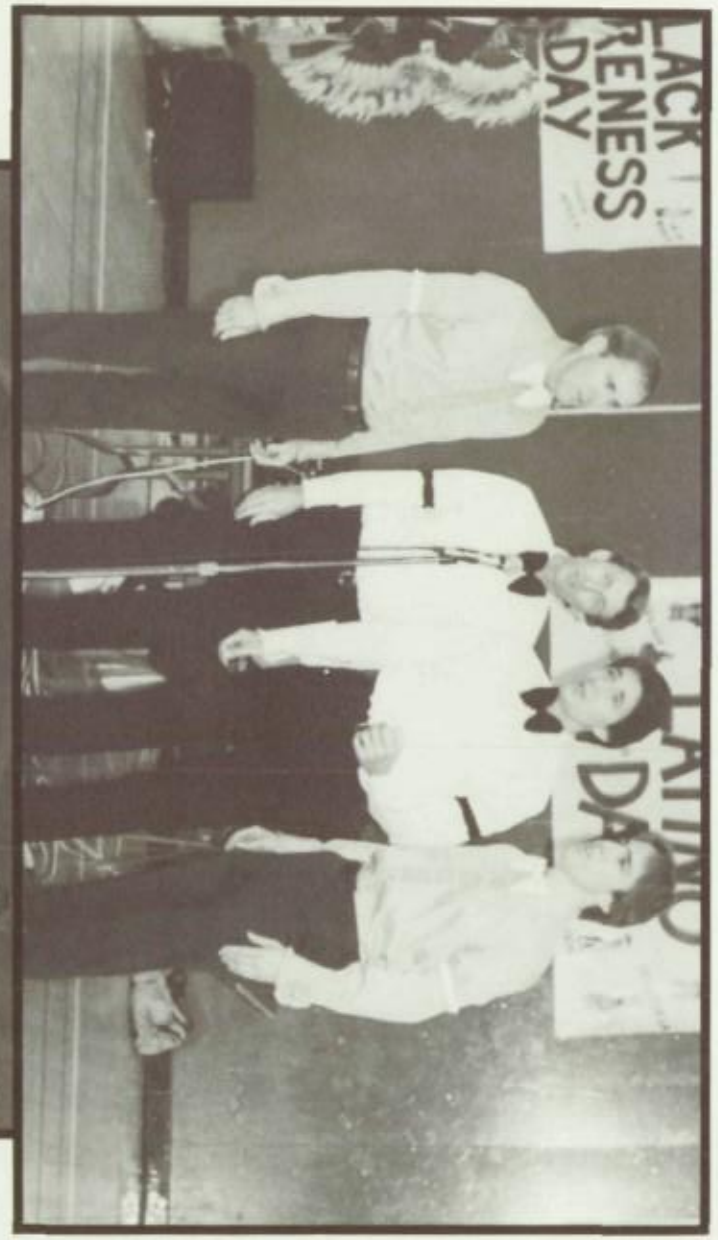
Michelle Gillpatrick-Art: Michelle does outstanding work in all areas of art. Her finished canvasses reflect a beauty that represents the excellence of a skillful artist. Michelle plans to pursue a career in the art field.

Manuel Zamora-Boys' P.E.: Manuel works superbly with other students. They look to him for leadership. He is positive with everyone, and in every situation. Manuel leads by example.

Lorie Williford-Business Education: Lorie has taken accounting, secretarial, and computer classes in Business Education while at El Cajon Valley High School. She is a mature, responsible, and reliable person who displays courtesy and ability in all her involvements.

This Land Is Your Land, This Land Is My Land





Each year El Cajon Valley High School celebrates its annual Multi-Cultural Week. During the week many of the faculty, staff, students, and community are involved in working together to unite the many different cultures representing our school. Each day of the week was dedicated to one signified culture: Monday, Black Awareness Day; Tuesday, Asian Day; Wednesday, Middle-Eastern Day; Thursday, Latino Day; and Friday, American Day.

Each day students from El Cajon Valley High School were able to sample food from the various cultures and the Multi-Cultural Assembly on Friday included entertainment representing the week's cultures. With the dedication of Cecelia Castro and the assistance and support of the faculty, staff, students, and community, this year's Multi-Cultural Week was a tremendous success.

Snowball Sparkles With A Candlelight Christmas

Dancing to the sounds of "Departure", all who attended the 1983 Snowball experienced a night to remember. Red and gold, depicting the theme of Candlelight Christmas, good music, and the crowning of the 1983 Snowball king and queen, Ricky Napier and Debbie Greenfield, melted together to create an evening of excitement and romance. Completing The Snowball Court were Deirdre Keller, Jr. Princess and Heather Holmes, Sophomore Princess.

This year's heads on campus were an extraordinary group of individuals. They worked hard to achieve their goals as student body leaders and presidents. Some were very visible at public events, others worked behind the scenes, but all made El Cajon Valley High School a more enjoyable and worthwhile place to be in 1983-84.

ASB Stands Proud

This year's ASB was bigger than ever, both in class and on campus. Mr. Baker, the advisor, put much effort into motivating the class and officers to succeed in events such as Homecoming, Snowball, Spirit Week, and assemblies. Another triumphant program was Secret Pals and Buddies, which allowed ASB to have secret friendships with faculty members and football players. These activities and others planned by our ASB proved that excellence began within room 29, the official ASB office.

Hong-Zhong Liu
Exchange Teacher
Republic Of China

In January, ECVHS experienced an honor shared by only 12 other schools in the United States as Hong-Zhong Liu came from the Republic of China to the home of the Braves. Miss Liu shared with us her culture and learned, in exchange, the lifestyle of Southern California. She taught and attended classes, spoke to groups and just generally became a part of the friendly family of ECVHS. It was an exciting year for all of us as East and West truly met in friendship.

"Now, in the end of my staying here in El Cajon, the place that gave me the greatest period of my life, the time has come to say thank you. That's to everyone that helped me here. To the "I" club, to Mr. Gross which his shoulder helped a lot, to E.C.V.H.S. marching band- that part was big and it's the one that I'll always love (Good luck next year), and last to my family, the Streepers, that became a part of me, a part that will never be taken."

Love you all,

The presses kept rolling everyday during fourth period in room twenty four. This year, with a highly qualified staff, our school newspaper, The Smoke Signal, provided many excellent editions. Once a month the students of E.C.V.H.S. looked forward to the publishing of The Smoke Signal. This year there were five editors, who assigned the layouts. The paper consisted of four pages: news, editorial, feature, and sports. A dedicated staff of eighteen students interviewed, wrote, proofread, photographed, and delivered the news of E.C.V.H.S. to keep the student body informed.

Concert Band Is In Tune

El Cajon's fine band swung into it's Concert Band season after a very successful marching season. They took many trips and their sound was heard all over California. The Pep Band played at all football games, assemblies, and some basketball games too. Director Robert Finnin proudly conducted the Concert Band and the Pep Band in all of their performances.

The 1983 edition of the Marching Band was an outstanding success. The band proudly returned to El Cajon with two first place trophies from the La Habra Field Show Competition and the San Dieguito Coastal Field Show Tournament. The sound produced by the band had quality and their performances always drew applause from the crowd. They were very respected not only at El Cajon Valley but throughout the District. To add variety to their performances, the Band often featured solos on trumpet by Jeff Johnson, Cindy Gaines, and Dovi Gil-Har, and marimba solos by Drum Major, Jon Martin. With the many freshmen who joined the group this year, the Band also has a lot to look forward to in future years of competition.

This year's Specialty Corps, consisting of the drill team and tall flags during field shows and the banner during parade marching, was an outstanding success. At La Habra field show competition, the drill placed fourth and the flags placed fourth, and at the San Dieguito Coastal Field Show Tournament the drill placed first and the flags placed second. The Specialty Corps started strong in numbers but due to many reasons shrank to only nine menbers. Despite their small size the Specialty Corps was still able to come home each weekend with a trophy and a lot of pride.

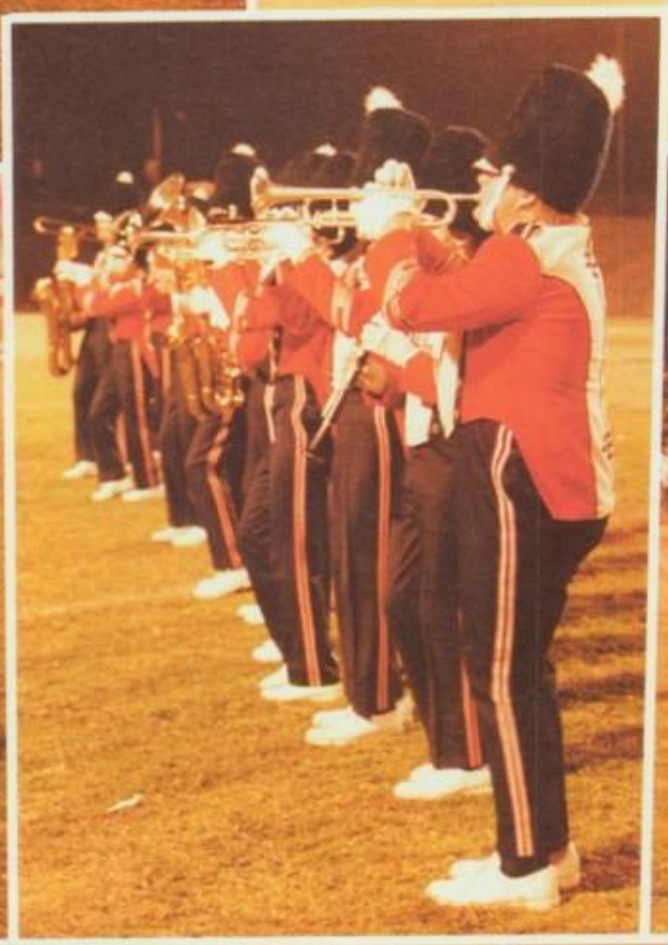
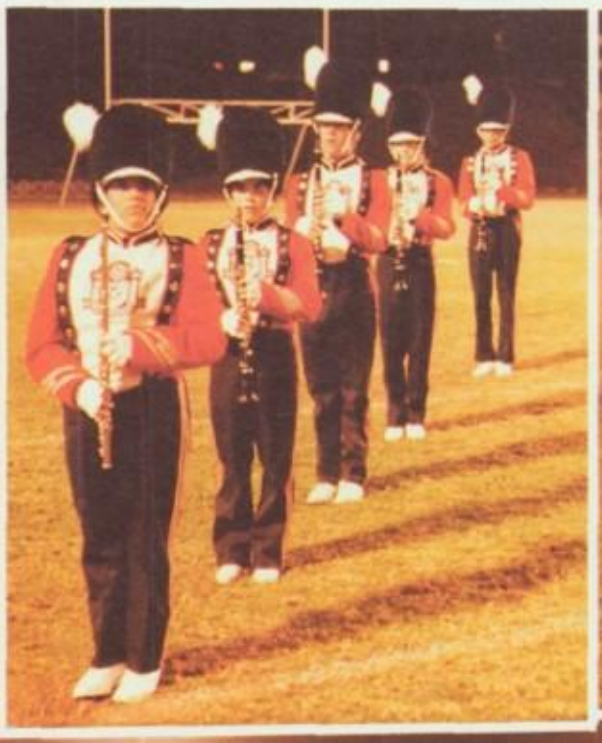
Band



Jamboree



At this year's Band Jamboree, the El Cajon Valley Unit made its final field show performance, finishing a successful competitive season. The band played "Georgia On My Mind," "New York Fantasy", "Temptation", and then the show closed with "If you Believe". The Specialty Corps, consisting of the Drill Team and Tall Flags, performed routines to each of the songs.

The outstanding show was designed by Bruce Jamikowski, the band was directed by Robert Finnin, and the Specialty Corps by Kris Arnold.

Although Coach Gene Watkins' first year at El Cajon was not a success in terms of wins and losses, it surely will be a memorable one for him. In future years, when Coach Watkins' Braves are a power in the Grossmont League, he can look back upon a group of players who refused to listen to their constant criticism, and had pride enough not to quit. The varsity team maintained its enthusiasm and intensity throughout the year, and when the season reached its low point, team spirit attained its peak. The school can be proud of this year's team, for the attitude it kept will be a standard for future years to come.

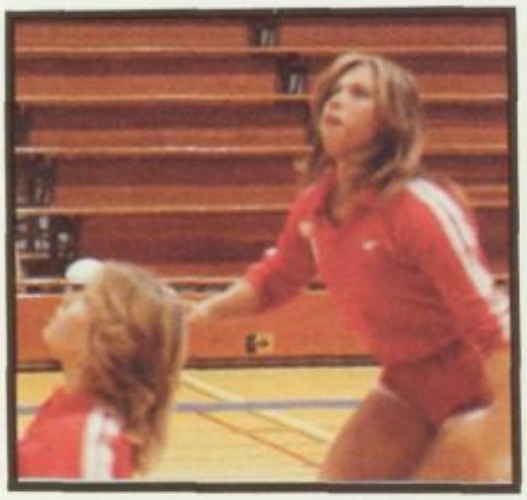
Volleyball Bumps Into Action



The El Cajon Valley Braves volleyball team, once again, had a successful and exciting season.

Leading the team to victory was returning all-league player Amy Hillenbrand, who sparked the team on offense with powerful hits and Debbie Greenfield displayed great accuracy in passing, hitting, and serving.

Field Hockey Striving Toward Success

With only four returning players, Miss J. faced a rebuilding year this year. But through dedication, hard work and enthusiasm, the team kept their poise even though they did not achieve the win totals of previous ECVHS Field Hockey squads. With the year of experience gained, next season should be very promising.

Varsity Water Polo

The contagious spirit and enthusiasm of Head Coach Robin Sanchez was characteristic of this year's Varsity water polo team. Senior co-captains Mike Reagles and Darin Binderim led a scrappy group of swimmers who believed in themselves, and worked very hard to achieve the goals they set. It was evident to those who watched the team play that it felt honored to represent the school.

This team is better as a unit than I've had before."

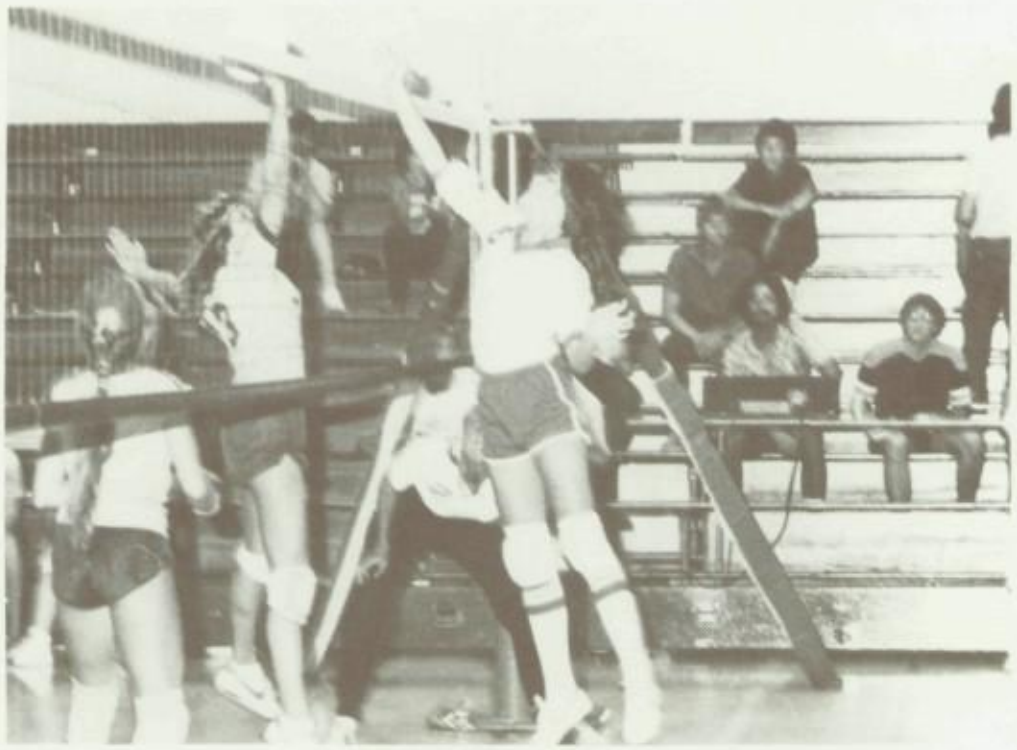
This year's Girls' Tennis Team was one of the most talented ever. Ms. Gebhardt stated that the team worked hard to accomplish a fulfilling season as each member worked out every Mon.-Fri. from 2:30-5:00 p.m. Returning singles player Tho Nguyen, and a doubles team composed of Deanna Dames and Quy Nguyen were ranked as some of the top players in the Grossmont District.

J.V. Volleyball



Improvement was the key to this year's J.V. Volleyball team. After a slow start, the squad finished strong, winning three of their final four games.

Donkey Basketball

This year's Donkey Basketball game was one of the most exciting ever. Most of the game was led by the faculty until the second half, when the Seniors made their comeback. The game went into sudden-death overtime, and in the end the Seniors beat the faculty, forty-six to forty-four.

On March 8th and 9th the faculty and staff of ECVHS presented their second annual Faculty Follies with a matinee and two evening performances. Almost fifty faculty members sang, acted, danced, played instruments and presented skits in a 2-hour program to entertain the students and community. From the opening melodrama entitled, "The Heiress of Harkington Hall", to the trio of administrators singing "Trash", the program supplied a variety of acts to showcase the talents of the performers. Over $1500 was raised to be applied to scholarships for deserving ECVHS students.

In The News

1984 was filled with many important events. Progress as well as tragedy was recorded as we entered the year of George Orwell. Internationally, the Soviets shot down a Korean airliner, the United States invaded Grenada, and the death toll of American marines from the Beirut terrorist bombing rose to over 200. The Cabbage Patch Kids also made headline news as the craze swept through America, and Ronald Reagan decided to run for President again.

In sports, the Raiders defeated the Redskins for the Superbowl Championship, the Padres got ace pitcher, Goose Gossage, and Ray Kroc, owner of the Padres and originator of Mac Donalds, died at 81. And of course, 1984 was an Olympic year.

On the medical scene, the first liver transplant in San Diego was performed. Athletes in the Grossmont District will remember this as the year when a "C" average became the standard for eligibility. 1984 was indeed a year of change.

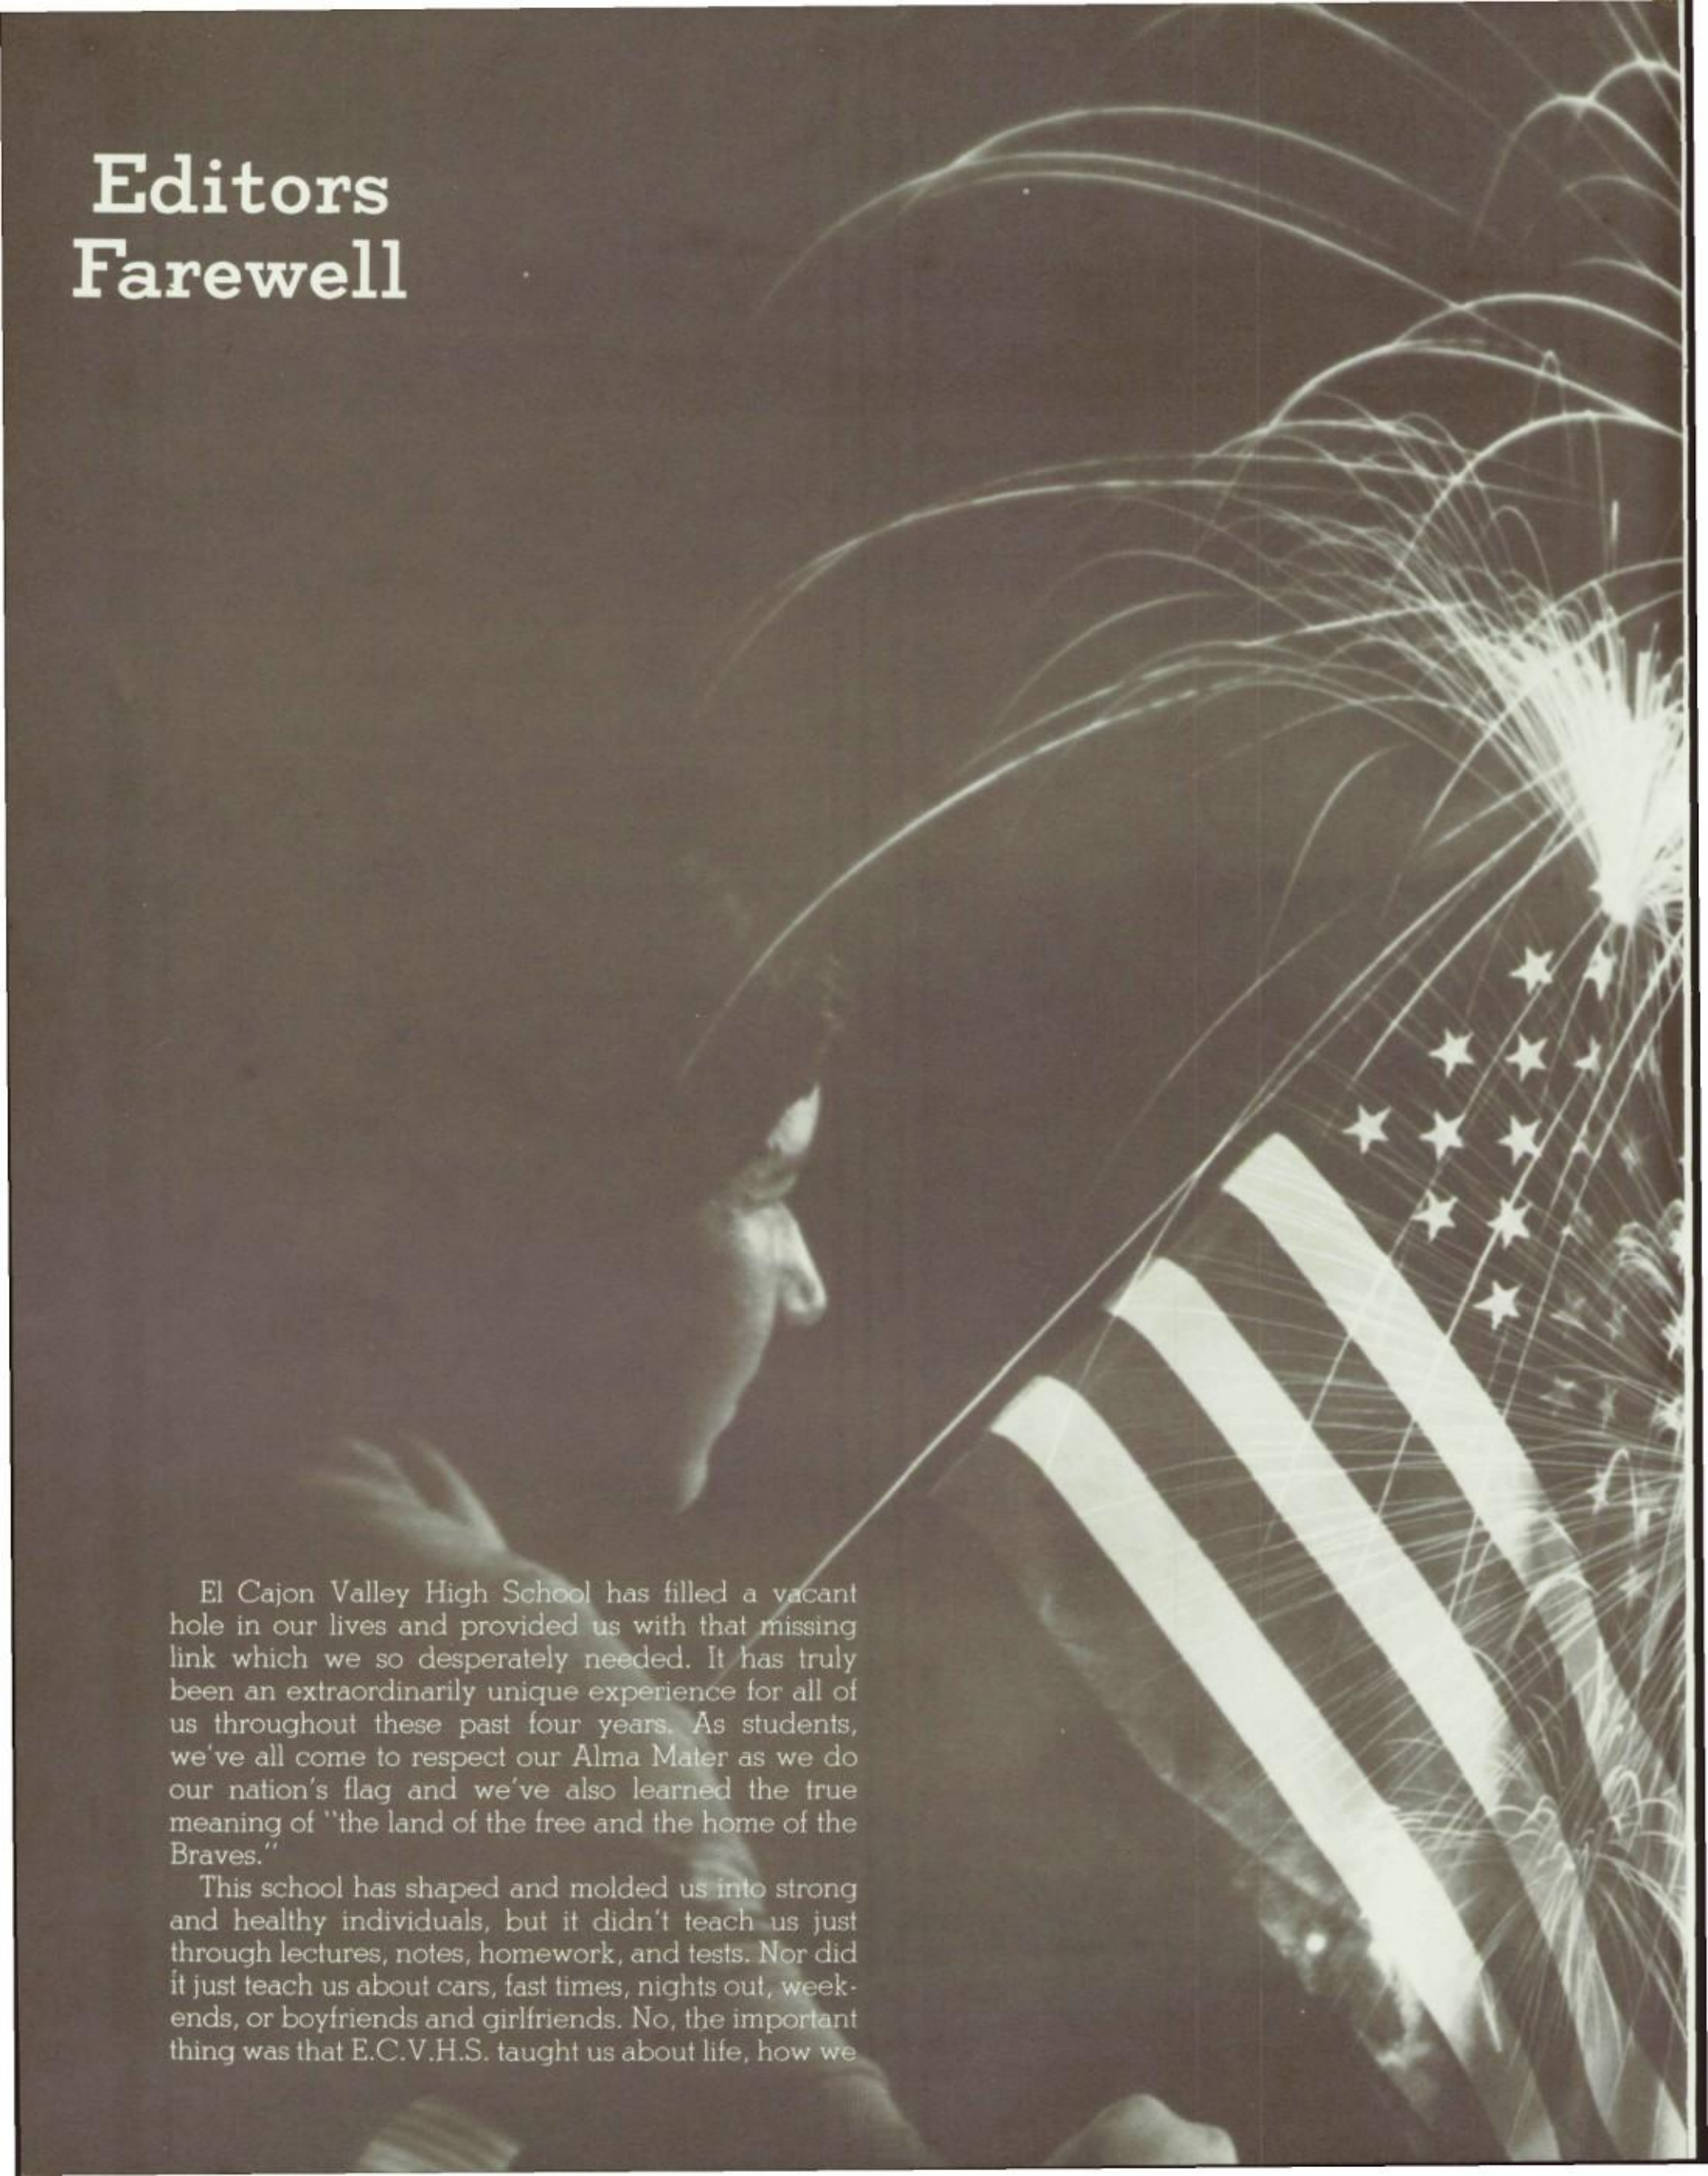
Editors Farewell



El Cajon Valley High School has filled a vacant hole in our lives and provided us with that missing link which we so desperately needed. It has truly been an extraordinarily unique experience for all of us throughout these past four years. As students, we've all come to respect our Alma Mater as we do our nation's flag and we've also learned the true meaning of "the land of the free and the home of the Braves."

This school has shaped and molded us into strong and healthy individuals, but it didn't teach us just through lectures, notes, homework, and tests. Nor did it just teach us about cars, fast times, nights out, weekends, or boyfriends and girlfriends. No, the important thing was that E.C.V.H.S. taught us about life, how we should examine it more closely and not let the world be too much with us. Now that we know where we're headed and why we're going there, we simply can't stagnate in life. We must realize we all can make a difference in this world and are able to change society to suit our needs. The high school phase of our life is over now, and we must enter the real world remembering to follow this quest, to hold on to that dream, and to keep reaching for those unreachable stars.

But we have preached far too long and the time has come to bid a fond farewell. Good-bye to you, E.C.V.H.S., our dearest friend.

Some of you may know me and some of you may not. For those of you who do I would like to say something. I will never forget all the memories and friends I've had the last four years at El Cajon High. I will miss you all.

To my Mom, one of the greatest ladies on this earth, I'd like to take this time to thank her for all the support, encouragement, and understanding that she's given me through probably the hardest, but most rewarding and memorable years of my life.

Thanks for everything! I Love You very much, Mom!

Scarl,
I've known you for a few years and I've had good moments or should I say
we had good moments
we had fights once and awhile
But still friends I dont
Know if I'll see you again
Because Im going to cal Cap and I might go out for the Band Stick with the Drums but Band a drum era
Read, maybe well be in competition But who knows
Take It Easy have a cool life and stay alone till your time comes.
